

New England HOME

Celebrating Fine Design, Architecture, and Building

THE NEW MOOD:
COZY, CHIC & COMFORTABLE

September–October 2019

$6.95

Display until November 18, 2019
nehomemag.com

Perspectives

Style Scheme

All Dressed Up: He Says

"I'm hyper-organized, and I think that's why dressing rooms appeal to me," says Kurt Hakansson. His firm specializes in custom cabinetry, but he says a dressing room can also include furniture components such as a bureau. The one feature that's essential? A place to showcase shoes. "If you're lucky enough to have a dressing room, you also own shoes that should be seen.

But men don't take care of their shoes the way they used to. Thus, the shoeshine kit." | Hakansson Design Group, Boston, Mass., khdesigngroup.com

| EDITED BY ERIKA AYN FINCH |

| 1. Aalto Oval Starburst chandelier, Wolfers Lighting, Waltham, Mass., wolfers.com | 2. Reciprocity oil painting on panel by Suzy Barnard, Boston Art, Boston, bostonartinc.com | 3. Sherman floor mirror, Curated Kravet, Boston, curatedkravet.com | 4. Ambe armchair, Roche Bobois, Boston and Natick, Mass., roche-bobois.com | 5. Tao dresser by Hellman Chang, The Bright Group, Boston, thebrightgroup.com | 6. Alhambra Byzantine Blue wallcovering, Phillip Jeffries, Boston, phillipjeffries.com | 7. Acrylic and leather luggage rack, CB2, Boston, cb2.com | 8. Random wave wood with walnut finish by Pennville Custom Cabinetry, through the designer | 9. Kaleidoscope rug, Landry & Arcari Rugs and Carpeting, Boston, landryandarcari.com | 10. Cedar shoe valet, Brooks Brothers, Boston and Chestnut Hill, Mass., brooksbrothers.com